SoCalGas Announces Expansion of Energy Savings Assistance Program

Up to 500,000 More Low-Income Families Now Eligible Past Enrollees May Qualify for More No-Cost Energy-Efficient Home Upgrades

LOS ANGELES, June 29, 2016— Southern California Gas Co. (SoCalGas) today announced a significant expansion of its Energy Savings Assistance Program. As many as 500,000 additional low-income families may now be eligible to receive no-cost energy efficient home upgrades. In addition, SoCalGas is intensifying outreach efforts to increase enrollments in the program to ensure the health, safety, and comfort of its most vulnerable customers.

“We are pleased to offer income-qualified renters and homeowners a program that helps them save money and energy by providing no-cost, energy-efficient home improvements,” said Dan Rendler, director, Customer Programs & Assistance, SoCalGas. “Even if you made home improvements before, you may qualify for more.”

The no-cost energy efficiency upgrades include door weather-stripping and caulking, attic insulation, low-flow showerheads, and assessments for leaking water heaters.

A key goal of the expanded program is to save at least 10 percent above the current energy savings average in selected areas. To achieve the greatest energy savings, SoCalGas will target properties that use the most energy first.

“This is the best way to make sure resources go where they will make the biggest impact on our energy-saving goals and help those who need it most,” said Rendler.

Customers may automatically be eligible if their household income is below newly released guidelines or if a member of the household currently receives benefits from any of the following public assistance programs: Medi-Cal/Medicaid, Medi-Cal for Families A&B, Women, Infants and Children (WIC), CalWORKs (TANF) or Tribal TANF, Head Start Income Eligible (Tribal Only), Bureau of Indian Affairs General Assistance, CalFresh (Food Stamps), National School Lunch Program, Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP), or Supplemental Security Income (SSI).
